This is one of the early novels written by Douglas Preston and Lincoln Child. It's about a nuclear reactor situation out in the southwestern area of the United States (desert), and how this one person handles it. I read this years ago, and in rereading it, it had all the excitement the second time around! This was a great find.

Preston and Child's MOUNT DRAGON suffers from clichéd characters, too many side plots, and a failure to ever actually deal with the ethical issue on which the novel was supposedly based. The story focuses on a young geneticist, Guy Carson, who is recruited by GeneDyne, a medical research company, to help develop a cure for the flu through genetic engineering.
